

St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Tuesday, July 15, 1884.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PUBLISHED BY THE DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.

ST. LOUIS, MO., TUESDAY.

TERMS OF THE DAILY.

Copy, postage paid.....	$1.00
Two months.....	1.40
One month.....	1.20
One month delivered by carrier.....	1.20
By the week delivered by carrier.....	1.20
Subscribers who fail to receive their paper regularly will enclose a wire or letter reporting the same to this office by postal or telegraph.
THE WEEKLY.	6.00
Copy, postage paid.....	6.00
All business or news items, unless otherwise directed, should be addressed to:
POST-DISPATCH
615 and 517 Market streets.

TUESDAY, JULY 15, 1884.

Subscribers leaving the city during the summer months can have the Post-Dispatch mailed to them regularly at the usual rates, by mailing their address at the counting-room, No. 515-17, Market street.

The logic of a mob is always bad, but seldom so vicious as in the case of the Owensboro mob, who murdered a brave jailor for the sake of executing their savage justice on a criminal prisoner.

There is no getting justice for the Democrats from the Globe-Democrat. It speaks of last night's ratification meeting under the heading "A Tame Crowd." Did it expect the Democracy to show their enthusiasm by making a bonfire of the platform and painting the walkway?

It will remove a popular error to explain that Mr. HENDRICKS had wronged him by such reference to frauds that had been going on under his predecessor, and claimed that he had acted promptly in discharging the head of the bureau when the frauds were at last made known, and that this Dr. WALES had been re-appointed and retained under CHANDLER's administration at the request of many Congressmen, Democrats and Republicans.

Mr. HENDRICKS' rejoinder is a very neat bit of skinning. Confronting Mr. CHANDLER with his own testimony he shows that the Secretary admitted that the voucher frauds in the bureau of medicine and surgery had been going on for four years without public exposure, and for a year after the Secretary had received warnings that aroused his suspicions. Not till Detective WOOD threatened to put the matter before Congress did the Secretary bestir himself, and then he made a scapegoat of Dr. WALES, who was not one of the three guilty parties, and was no more responsible for the success of their rascality than was Secretary CHANDLER himself.

This attempt of the clever Secretary to devolve the responsibility first with a former Republican administration, then with a subordinate and a number of his influential friends in Congress, is, in Mr. HENDRICKS' opinion, a strong corroboration of his comments on the affair, and the public will be apt to agree with him. Frauds of the most easily discovered character permitted to run through two administrations of the same party, and shielded from investigation by personal favoritism, political "infidelity" and party spirit, are the very strongest proofs that nothing but a change of the parties in power can wrench the public service out of those old rats.

At the ratification meeting last night seemed to "catch on" to the idea of CLEVELAND's nomination. The idea is that CLEVELAND is a reformer, and if Democracy in St. Louis really desires to support him, it should give evidence of its faith by good works; it should do a little something in the line of reform by shaking off the bosses. That is an idea we should like to see properly developed.

There is a lively competition between the two wings of the Democratic party in St. Louis as to which shall hold the most successful ratification meeting. Last night's meeting was an undoubted success in every way; it was well attended and left a good impression. We trust that the meeting to-night at Mercantile Library Hall will be equally successful. A lively interest in politics, and an active participation by the people in political work, are the safeguards of our political system.

The contest over the appointments to the Mullinphy Emigrant Board has passed from the Municipal Assembly to the Board, and from the Board to the Courts. A counsel has been retained, and it will try every little litigation to eat up the small fragment of the income of the Board that is not eaten up already. Our recollection is, that the monthly income of the fund averages about $1,500, and that in months when the Board feels very active and energetic are plenty as much as seventeen dollars is paid out for relief. This sum, which has hitherto been wasted we may say, because the emigrants would have been as well off without it, will now go to some worthy and deserving lawyer, a tribe being appropriated to the costs of the machinery of justice.

News from Europe has lately been of a raising and blood-bathing description, but few items have been more startling than the telegram published exclusively by our esteemed contemporary, the Globe-Democrat, this morning under the head "A Gig Captured." This telegram purported to relate to Egypt and said: "It is reported that OSMAN DIGNA has captured a gig in the Red Sea." Magnificent possibilities of speculation were opened by this item, and we fancy that the readers of the Globe-Democrat are asking themselves what kind of a gig it was, how it came to be in the Red Sea, why OSMAN DIGNA should capture it and why the associated press should report the capture. No light is thrown on the subject by studying the columns of our other esteemed contemporary, the Republique. Its telegraph editor was evidently afraid of the item and dropped it in the waste-paper basket, and the item remains a mystery. There is a part on the Red Sea named Asia, a few miles from Meekin, and the Post-Dispatch of Saturday said that it was reported that OSMAN DIGNA had sailed that town. Perhaps that may have something to do with the reported capture of a gig in the morning's paper.

There is one spectacle more beautiful than another, and it is the spectacle of the medical profession standing in its dignity, and this is a spectacle which the medical profession is always up to with. Outside of the profession there is a vulgar error that the purpose for which the profession exists is to save human life. But in reality the saving of life is merely incidental, the real purpose being to maintain the dignity of the profession, to cultivate its ethics and to live and die by the code.

A beautiful illustration of this familiar truth has just been furnished by the Academy of Medicine, which refuses to advise the French Government as to what should be done in the cholera business, because the Government refused to change the arrangements made for yesterday's celebrations. We do not like to say that any advice which the Academy might give would be worthless, but, on the other hand, if we are asked to believe that the Academy has any skill, experience or knowledge which might avail to prevent the spread of the epidemic, its conduct puts it in the light of declaring that it is perfectly willing that thousands of Frenchmen shall die miserable deaths rather than sacrifice its notions of professional etiquette.

HENDRICKS AND CHANDLER.

Secretary CHANDLER's testimony, as given to the Associated Press, showed how frauds in a bureau are continued from one Republican administration to another, and Mr. HENDRICKS in a speech commented on the fact as a proof that a change of parties was necessary to insure a thorough shaking up and purification of the departments.

Mr. CHANDLER replied in an ingenious plea that Mr. HENDRICKS had wronged him by such reference to frauds that had been going on under his predecessor, and claimed that he had acted promptly in discharging the head of the bureau when the frauds were at last made known, and that this Dr. WALES had been re-appointed and retained under CHANDLER's administration at the request of many Congressmen, Democrats and Republicans.

Mr. HENDRICKS' rejoinder is a very neat bit of skinning. Confronting Mr. CHANDLER with his own testimony he shows that the Secretary admitted that the voucher frauds in the bureau of medicine and surgery had been going on for four years without public exposure, and for a year after the Secretary had received warnings that aroused his suspicions. Not till Detective WOOD threatened to put the matter before Congress did the Secretary bestir himself, and then he made a scapegoat of Dr. WALES, who was not one of the three guilty parties, and was no more responsible for the success of their rascality than was Secretary CHANDLER himself.

This attempt of the clever Secretary to devolve the responsibility first with a former Republican administration, then with a subordinate and a number of his influential friends in Congress, is, in Mr. HENDRICKS' opinion, a strong corroboration of his comments on the affair, and the public will be apt to agree with him. Frauds of the most easily discovered character permitted to run through two administrations of the same party, and shielded from investigation by personal favoritism, political "infidelity" and party spirit, are the very strongest proofs that nothing but a change of the parties in power can wrench the public service out of those old rats.

At the ratification meeting last night seemed to "catch on" to the idea of CLEVELAND's nomination. The idea is that CLEVELAND is a reformer, and if Democracy in St. Louis really desires to support him, it should give evidence of its faith by good works; it should do a little something in the line of reform by shaking off the bosses. That is an idea we should like to see properly developed.

The State of Kentucky owes it to herself and to the whole country to provide well for the family of JAILER LUCAS, who was killed while bravely defending the Owensboro jail against a mob last Monday morning. In a city of five or six thousand inhabitants, which had permitted two other prisoners to be taken from the same jail and hung by mobs, and which had every reason to expect this assault, he was left with no help but that of his wife and little son to guard the majesty of Kentucky law. He warned the mob that he would do his sworn duty and die at his post protecting his prisoners, and so nobly kept his word.

Only a short time ago a Mt. Sterling jailer administered a brutal blow to an armed mob of would-be Lynchers, but received no reward and rather cold thanks for risking his life to redeem the reputation of Kentucky. The Owensboro official gave his life to vindicate the honor of his State, and the people of that State, and especially of the city in which the tragedy was permitted to occur, can not wash their hands of the murder and vindicate their civilization if they leave his helpless family unprovided for. If the affair had occurred anywhere in Missouri the people of St. Louis would have promptly joined in a popular subscription for the benefit of the family.

Everybody knows there will be no punishment for the mob of murderers and something should be done to show that there is some public sentiment against such deeds, some little popular support for officers of the law who prefer to die rather than betray or dishonor a public trust. A State that can not guarantee a legal trial to the prisoners in its jails can command no respect for its laws, no submission from the criminal classes. A community that has permitted three mobs to capture its jail three times, hang three unconvicted prisoners in its Court House yard, and murder its officers with impunity in a considerable city, should do something to vindicate itself, and to notify mob that the Cincinnati way of dealing with their assaults on jails is becoming popular.

AMERICA APPRECIATED.

Mr. PROCTOR, the astronomer, has shown his good sense in many ways. His enemies in science have been so fairly won that he will still be a great man even if he were not as sensible in private life as he has shown himself to be.

He acted sensibly in marrying an American girl, and especially in marrying a Missouri girl. He has wisely surrounded himself with a large family of children, and now he brings them to this country, it is said, in order that they may grow up under American institutions.

This sensible idea of Mr. PROCTOR's is in striking contrast with the folly of so many genteel Americans. The crass in our society is to cut American institutions and ape British fashions. Americans who ought to be proud of their democracy are found taking childish delight in a bogus cost-of-living; an acquaintance with a British peer is considered the test and guarantee of social position, while a small Italiam nobleman, without brains or character, is considered as quite the swell thing for a son-in-law.

Mr. PROCTOR's honest preference for democracy should be a rebuke to our pseudo-aristocracy. It is a compliment to this country which should give us more pleasure than the condescending acquaintance of a dozen British peers.

An Encouraging Symptom.

There is one thing in connection with the proceedings of the Democratic Convention which must be exceedingly gratifying to all lovers of good government and of correct political methods, and that is the fact that the presidential aspirations of men whose only recommendation consisted in their possession of vast wealth, or who are the chosen representatives of the great corporations of the country, received no consideration whatever at its hands. All of the gentlemen balloted for—Cleveland, Bayard, Thurman, McDonald, Carlisle and Randall—are poor men. Not one of them was ever accused of a record of moral or political worthiness, or of doing anything in his official capacity of solid merit. Mr. Bowell P. Flower of New York, who is personally a very amiable fellow and possesses many elements of popularity, after months of earnest effort, supplemented by an expenditure of money never to get his name before the Convention. Judge Stephen Field, a man of great ability, and with good points in his record, failed to obtain any attention in spite of the efforts of some of the most powerful corporations of the country, and a lavish outlay of money. Senator Payne of Ohio, with the Standard Oil Company and the wealthy McLean family at his back, was not a factor in the situation. And Gen. Butler's vast wealth was not sufficient to give him standing as a candidate.

At a time when the progressions of great corporations are the preoccupation of consolidated wealth, it is pleasant to see that a political party, numbering half of the voters of the country, passes the money king by and selects a candidate for the presidency from among half a dozen poor men.

This is an encouraging evidence that the plutocrats have lost their grip on the country.

M. ADRIAN, the composer of "The Mascotte," has accepted to compose to sonatas for Mr. Farnie Four new comic operas to be produced at London theaters within the next two years. The first of the series is already in hand.

John LOWERY, of Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, will celebrate his hundredth birthday July 21. He has never lived and wrote "The Raven," is to be born down.

Mr. SWANSON has a ballad in the current number of the Nineteenth Century, descriptive of the northeast coast of England.

John LOWERY, of Luzerne County, Pennsylvania, will celebrate his hundredth birthday July 21. He has never lived and wrote "The Raven," is to be born down.

Richard A. PROCTOR, the astronomer, says that Mr. Wiggins' new moon theory is not worth notice, and that the Canadian weather prophet is no more than a node.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

M. ADRIAN, the composer of "The Mascotte," has accepted to compose to sonatas for Mr. Farnie Four new comic operas to be produced at London theaters within the next two years. The first of the series is already in hand.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Mr. PROCTOR, the editor of the New York Sun, is preparing a paper containing the secret history of his visit to General Sheridan during the last campaign in the Shenandoah Valley. It will be read before the First Regiment of the Union Veterans of Boston.

It is high time that the progressions of great corporations are the preoccupation of consolidated wealth, it is pleasant to see that a political party, numbering half of the voters of the country, passes the money king by and selects a candidate for the presidency from among half a dozen poor men.

This is an encouraging evidence that the plutocrats have lost their grip on the country.

M. ADRIAN, the composer of "The Mascotte," has accepted to compose to sonatas for Mr. Farnie Four new comic operas to be produced at London theaters within the next two years. The first of the series is already in hand.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Richard A. PROCTOR, the astronomer, says that Mr. Wiggins' new moon theory is not worth notice, and that the Canadian weather prophet is no more than a node.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Mr. PROCTOR, the editor of the New York Sun, is preparing a paper containing the secret history of his visit to General Sheridan during the last campaign in the Shenandoah Valley. It will be read before the First Regiment of the Union Veterans of Boston.

It is high time that the progressions of great corporations are the preoccupation of consolidated wealth, it is pleasant to see that a political party, numbering half of the voters of the country, passes the money king by and selects a candidate for the presidency from among half a dozen poor men.

This is an encouraging evidence that the plutocrats have lost their grip on the country.

M. ADRIAN, the composer of "The Mascotte," has accepted to compose to sonatas for Mr. Farnie Four new comic operas to be produced at London theaters within the next two years. The first of the series is already in hand.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Richard A. PROCTOR, the astronomer, says that Mr. Wiggins' new moon theory is not worth notice, and that the Canadian weather prophet is no more than a node.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Mr. PROCTOR, the editor of the New York Sun, is preparing a paper containing the secret history of his visit to General Sheridan during the last campaign in the Shenandoah Valley. It will be read before the First Regiment of the Union Veterans of Boston.

It is high time that the progressions of great corporations are the preoccupation of consolidated wealth, it is pleasant to see that a political party, numbering half of the voters of the country, passes the money king by and selects a candidate for the presidency from among half a dozen poor men.

This is an encouraging evidence that the plutocrats have lost their grip on the country.

M. ADRIAN, the composer of "The Mascotte," has accepted to compose to sonatas for Mr. Farnie Four new comic operas to be produced at London theaters within the next two years. The first of the series is already in hand.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Richard A. PROCTOR, the astronomer, says that Mr. Wiggins' new moon theory is not worth notice, and that the Canadian weather prophet is no more than a node.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Mr. PROCTOR, the editor of the New York Sun, is preparing a paper containing the secret history of his visit to General Sheridan during the last campaign in the Shenandoah Valley. It will be read before the First Regiment of the Union Veterans of Boston.

It is high time that the progressions of great corporations are the preoccupation of consolidated wealth, it is pleasant to see that a political party, numbering half of the voters of the country, passes the money king by and selects a candidate for the presidency from among half a dozen poor men.

This is an encouraging evidence that the plutocrats have lost their grip on the country.

M. ADRIAN, the composer of "The Mascotte," has accepted to compose to sonatas for Mr. Farnie Four new comic operas to be produced at London theaters within the next two years. The first of the series is already in hand.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Richard A. PROCTOR, the astronomer, says that Mr. Wiggins' new moon theory is not worth notice, and that the Canadian weather prophet is no more than a node.

John S. MOFFATT, of Grahamstown, South Africa, is preparing a memoir of his father, Robert Moffatt, the missionary and explorer, whose daughter married the greater explorer, Livingstone.

Mr. PROCTOR, the editor of the New York Sun, is preparing a paper containing the secret history of his visit to General Sheridan during the last campaign in the Shenandoah Valley. It will be read before the First Regiment of the Union Veterans of Boston.

It is high time that the progressions of great corporations are the preoccupation of consolidated wealth, it is pleasant to see that a political party, numbering half of the voters of the country, passes the money king by and selects a candidate for the presidency from among half a dozen poor men.

This is

THEIR FIELDING.

Another Batch of American Association Averages.

Games Yesterday—Bond and the Boston International Cricket—Diamond Chips—Sporting Notes and Sundries.

The official fielding averages prepared by Secretary Wilcox up to July 1 are as follows:

FIELDING RECORD.

	No.	Chgs.	Pr.	Avg.
Pitchers
1. Hecker	Louisville	34	.05	.948
2. Ezzell	Baltimore	21	.05	.948
3. Clegg	Cincinnati	21	.05	.948
4. Henderson	Baltimore	18	.01	.950
5. McNamee	St. Louis	30	.05	.945
6. Mullane	Baltimore	24	.05	.945
7. Kimball	Brooklyn	14	.01	.952
8. Sullivan	Allegheny	14	.01	.952
9. Keefe	Metropolitan	20	.01	.952
10. Murphy	Baltimore	11	.01	.952
11. Atkinson	Athletic	19	.01	.952
12. O'Day	Toledo	35	.01	.952
13. Driscoll	Louisville	6	.01	.951
14. Neagle	Allegheny	18	.01	.950
15. Clegg	Cincinnati	21	.01	.950
16. Mullane	St. Louis	21	.01	.950
17. Matthews	Athletic	19	.01	.950
18. Morris	Columbus	20	.01	.950
19. Mullane	Baltimore	20	.01	.950
20. Mountain	Columbus	20	.01	.950
21. Barr	Washington	20	.01	.950
22. Trotter	Washington	10	.01	.950
23. Conway	Brooklyn	8	.01	.950
24. Davis	St. Louis	10	.01	.949
25. Carroll	Columbus	22	.01	.951
26. Donley	Baltimore	55	.01	.950
27. Snyder	Cincinnati	22	.01	.950
28. Sullivan	Baltimore	18	.01	.950
29. Trafton	Baltimore	21	.01	.950
30. Hohler	St. Louis	18	.01	.950
31. Stiffel	Athletic	24	.01	.950
32. Powers	Baltimore	20	.01	.950
33. Bullis	Toledo	13	.01	.950
34. Powers	Cincinnati	8	.01	.950
35. Wilson	Brooklyn	7	.01	.950
36. Foster	Athletic	5	.01	.950
37. Trotter	Baltimore	16	.01	.950
38. Hayes	Allegheny	10	.01	.944
FIRST BASEMEN.
1. Orr	Albion	41	.07	.979
2. Stover	Athletic	42	.07	.978
3. Moffet	Toledo	30	.03	.978
4. Keeler	Indianapolis	34	.05	.978
5. Chapman, Geo.	Washington	7	.06	.978
6. Morgan	Humboldt	29	.05	.978
7. Chapman, W.	Baltimore	18	.01	.978
8. Mullane	Metropolitans	21	.01	.978
9. Colgan	Allegheny	21	.01	.978
10. Kemmer	Columbus	21	.01	.978
11. Hayes	Allegheny	10	.01	.978
SECOND BASEMEN.
1. Creepin	Allegheny	45	.01	.954
2. McNamee	Baltimore	45	.01	.954
3. Gerhardt	Louisville	36	.01	.951
4. Barkley	Athletic	52	.01	.951
5. Greenwood	Baltimore	26	.01	.951
6. Manning	Baltimore	40	.01	.950
7. Smith	Columbus	45	.01	.950
8. Yewell	Washington	39	.01	.950
9. Merrill	Indianapolis	39	.01	.950
10. Troy	Metropolitans	38	.01	.950
THIRD BASEMEN.
1. Carpenter	Cincinnati	37	.01	.950
2. Battin	Athletic	40	.01	.950
3. Kusinek	Columbus	45	.01	.950
4. Esterbrook	Metropolitans	41	.01	.950
5. Sommer	Baltimore	39	.01	.950
6. Browning	Louisville	25	.01	.950
7. Brown	Toledo	40	.01	.950
8. Warner	Brooklyn	39	.01	.950
9. Gladman	Washington	35	.01	.950
SHORT STOPs.
1. McLaughlin	Louisville	29	.01	.952
2. McNamee	Baltimore	40	.01	.952
3. Houch	Athletic	49	.01	.952
4. Macular	Baltimore	41	.01	.952
5. Fennelly	Washington	37	.01	.952
6. Geer	Baltimore	29	.01	.952
7. Reckus	Louisville	9	.01	.952
8. Gleason	St. Louis	41	.01	.952
9. Nelson	Metropolitans	30	.01	.952
10. Miller	Baltimore	41	.01	.952
11. Fulmer	Cincinnati	35	.01	.952
MOUNTAINERS.
1. Mountain	Toledo	5	.01	.950
2. Denehy	Washington	5	.01	.950
3. Farley	Washington	5	.01	.950
4. Murphy	Baltimore	17	.01	.950
5. Cahill	Columbus	9	.01	.950
6. Mullane	Toledo	41	.01	.950
7. Dunton	Columbus	6	.01	.950
8. Morton	Toledo	10	.01	.950
9. Larkins	Athletic	11	.01	.950
10. Strief	St. Louis	32	.01	.950
11. Bremner	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
12. Esterbrook	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
13. Sommer	Baltimore	39	.01	.950
14. Correll	Columbus	18	.01	.950
15. Miller	Allegheny	17	.01	.950
16. Mansell	Cincinnati	57	.01	.950
17. Tilley	Athletic	61	.01	.950
18. Hayes	Washington	27	.01	.950
LEFT FIELDERS.
1. Mountain	Baltimore	5	.01	.950
2. Denehy	Baltimore	40	.01	.950
3. Houch	Athletic	49	.01	.950
4. Macular	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
5. Fennelly	Washington	37	.01	.950
6. Geer	Baltimore	16	.01	.950
7. Reckus	Louisville	9	.01	.950
8. Gleason	St. Louis	41	.01	.950
9. Nelson	Metropolitans	30	.01	.950
10. Miller	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
11. Fulmer	Cincinnati	35	.01	.950
12. Larkins	Athletic	11	.01	.950
13. Bremner	St. Louis	32	.01	.950
14. Esterbrook	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
15. Sommer	Baltimore	39	.01	.950
16. Correll	Columbus	18	.01	.950
17. Miller	Allegheny	17	.01	.950
18. Mansell	Cincinnati	57	.01	.950
19. Tilley	Athletic	61	.01	.950
20. Hayes	Washington	27	.01	.950
CENTER FIELDERS.
1. Knight	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
2. Brown	Washington	51	.01	.950
3. Wolf	Baltimore	45	.01	.950
4. Brady	Metropolitan	40	.01	.950
5. Nichols	St. Louis	41	.01	.950
6. Cahill	Toledo	36	.01	.950
7. Jones	Baltimore	19	.01	.950
8. Cline	St. Louis	38	.01	.950
9. Larkins	Athletic	12	.01	.950
10. Trumbull	Washington	16	.01	.950
11. Dugan	Baltimore	45	.01	.950
12. Roseman	Metropolitan	41	.01	.950
13. Mann	Columbus	32	.01	.950
14. Correll	Baltimore	21	.01	.950
15. Miller	Allegheny	17	.01	.950
16. Mansell	Cincinnati	57	.01	.950
17. Tilley	Athletic	61	.01	.950
18. Hayes	Washington	27	.01	.950
RIGHT FIELDERS.
1. Knight	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
2. Brown	Washington	51	.01	.950
3. Wolf	Baltimore	45	.01	.950
4. Brady	Metropolitan	40	.01	.950
5. Nichols	St. Louis	41	.01	.950
6. Cahill	Toledo	36	.01	.950
7. Jones	Baltimore	19	.01	.950
8. Cline	St. Louis	38	.01	.950
9. Larkins	Athletic	12	.01	.950
10. Trumbull	Washington	16	.01	.950
11. Dugan	Baltimore	45	.01	.950
12. Roseman	Metropolitan	41	.01	.950
13. Mann	Columbus	32	.01	.950
14. Correll	Baltimore	21	.01	.950
15. Miller	Allegheny	17	.01	.950
16. Mansell	Cincinnati	57	.01	.950
17. Tilley	Athletic	61	.01	.950
18. Hayes	Washington	27	.01	.950
19. Mullin	Washington	18	.01	.950
20. Thompson	Indianapolis	7	.01	.950
RIGHT FIELDERS.
1. Knight	Baltimore	41	.01	.950
2. Brown	Washington	51	.01	.950
3. Wolf	Baltimore	45	.01	.950
4. Brady	Metropolitan	40	.01	.950
5. Nichols	St. Louis	41	.01	.950
6. Cahill	Toledo	36	.01	.950
7. Jones	Baltimore	19	.01	.950
8. Cline	St. Louis	38	.01	.950
9. Larkins	Athletic	12	.01	.950
10. Trumbull	Washington	16	.01	.950
11. Dugan	Baltimore	45	.01	.950
12. Roseman	Metropolitan	4		